Windows: Time and Date Settings

Ensuring the right time and date on the systems can fix a lot of issues. If you are experiencing an issue on a specific application, this could be the potential fix. We will cover a how to set the computer to atomically configure the correct time always.

---

1. Adjust date/time

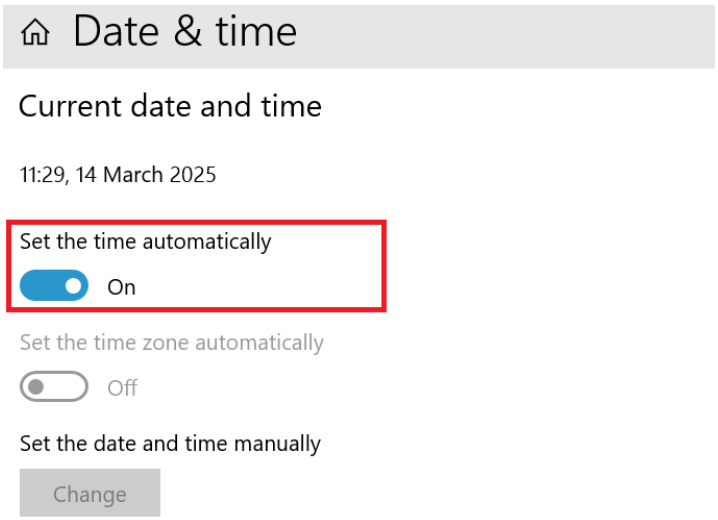

On the taskbar below the screen, right click the time and date. This will open a similar menu as in the image below. Click "adjust date/time".

---

2. Set the time automatically

Simply check on the toggle for "set the time automatically". This will automatically set the right time and date every-time the computer is turned on.

Revision #1
Created 14 March 2025 11:08:25 by Broadband9Admin
Updated 14 March 2025 11:37:15 by Broadband9Admin